Early Vote Here
Is Light; F.D.R.
Takes Maryland

Presaging a vote of between 40 and 50 per cent in today's California preferential primary election, approximately a 12 per cent vote had been cast here at noon today.

Polls will close tonight at 7 o'clock.

Five major slates are before California voters, two for the Republican party, and three Democratic.

Intra-party strife in the Republican election centers about two slates, that for Gov. Alf Landon of Kansas, and the Earl Warren unopposed delegation.

County Men on Slates

The name of one Orange county resident is on each slate. R. Y. Williams of San Juan Capistrano on the unopposed slate, and Senator Nels T. Edwards of Orange on the Warren slate.

Three delegations are striving to be sent to the national convention under the Democratic banner. Each is pledged to President Roosevelt, but one represents the Epic Democrats, one the Townsend Democrats, and one, the William G. McAdoo slate, the middle of the road Democrats.

On Democratic Ballots

Hamilton H. Cotton of San Clemente is on the McAdoo slate; Leslie B. Harrison and Mary E. Croal, Santa Ana, are on the John S. McGroarty-Townsend slate, and Barbara Brooks, Costa Mesa, is on the Sinclair-Epic slate.

Write-in ballots for the Prohibitionist, Communist and Socialist parties also are available in today's election.

Democrats outnumber Republicans in registration by a total of 632 names in this county, Count Clerk Joseph E. Backs has announced.

TIED TO TRACKS,
CHEATS DEATH

RUSSELLVILLE, Ark., May 5. (AP)—Bound to a railroad track with baling wire by two unidentified assailants who had held him captive for hours, Jeff Mackey, 52, Adkins, Ark., farmer, narrowly escaped death beneath a fast passenger train near here today.

The farmer, in a serious condition at a Russellville hospital from shock and loss of blood, told officers he saved his life by rolling outside the rail so the wheels slashed away only his right thumb.

Mackey told officers he was walking home last night when two men accosted him and covered him with a pistol. They saw the train coming and forcing him to kneel bound his right wrist to the rail, then stood guard over him with the pistol until the train was within 200 yards of them, then fled into the woods.

Senator Hastings
Flays Tax Bill

WASHINGTON, May 5. (AP)—The administration tax program was assailed today by Senator Hastings (R., Del.) as a "regulatory bill" that "violates every principle of taxation."

The Delaware Republican issued a statement on the measure as the Cotton Textile Institute expressed to the senate finance committee, of which Hastings is a member, its opposition to the proposed "windfall tax" in the house bill.

Dollar Freighters
Runs Aground

MANILA, P. I., May 5. (AP)—The freighter Melville Dollar ran aground today on Tomontom Shoals off Negros island, but was reported in no danger. A tug was trying to free the ship. Captain M. Moisen reported the crew of 36 was safe. The freighter carried no passengers.

PAPER FISH FLYING TODAY
It's Boy Day For Japanese

By ROCH BRADSHAW

One boy, one carp; three boys, three carps.

If you should see a large tissue paper fish darting in the wind above a Japanese home in Orange county today you would know the family was honoring its son; for today is Japanese Boy Day.

Boy is king today in Japanese homes and as many carp are flown as there are boys in the family.

S. Muraoka, manager of the Orange County Strawberry Association, explained today that the carp symbolizes strength, valor and determination. These are the qualities of manliness which are stressed on Boy Day. They are qualities boys are urged to emulate.

Returns from the Maryland preferential primary gave President Roosevelt a better than five to one margin today over Col. Henry Breckinridge, New Deal foe, and assured the chief executive of the state's 16 votes in the Democratic national convention.

As the count of ballots cast in Maryland yesterday was being completed, voters balloted today in California and South Dakota.

Three Demo Tickets

In the Republican party in California there is a contest between an unopposed slate of candidates for delegates and a slate pledged to Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas.

On the Democratic side voters had a choice among a slate picked by President Roosevelt, Upton Sinclair's group which was formed by Epic Democrats, and Representative McGroarty's group. Sinclair and McGroarty have said they would support the President on the second ballot at the Philadelphia Democratic convention.

Sinclair seeks a production-for-use plank in the party platform, while McGroarty's group wants a Townsend pension plan.

In the South Dakota primary, interest centered in the contest between a slate pledged to Senator Borah of Idaho, and an unopposed slate which is claimed by supporters of Governor Landon. The state will send eight delegates to the national convention.

President Roosevelt is unopposed in the Democratic primary in South Dakota.

Borah, in preparation for Ohio's primary May 12, spoke last night at East Liverpool and called upon the Republican national convention "to go on record against monopoly and nominate a man who has the courage to do the job."

He said that man was "not necessarily" him.

Roosevelt Unopposed

"If Walter Brown, Ed Schorr and other gentlemen control the Cleveland convention and write the platform," he said, "we will lose millions of voters who will not go back to that leadership."

President Roosevelt was unopposed today in Alabama's primary election. The state has 22 convention votes.

Indiana also held its primary election today, but no presidential preference was involved. Candidates were being nominated for congress, along with delegates to Democratic and Republican state conventions. The state conventions select delegates to the national convention.

Dismiss Graft
Cases Against 31

DES MOINES, Ia., May 5. (AP)—The state supreme court today wiped out "graft" cases against 31 persons indicted in a "crusade" which last night won the Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Gazette a Pulitzer prize.

The high state court held the indictments invalid. Its action marked the legal death of charges that a statewide graft and protection set up in connection with alleged protection for operators of slot machines existed and extended into the statehouse in Des Moines.

The Gazette, made the charges which prompted the original investigation by a special Woodbury county grand jury.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, May 5. (AP)—Methodist ministers "G-men" in their pulpits, delegates to the quadrennial convention of the Methodist Episcopal church were told today.

"God needs G-men in the Methodist pulpits who will hate sin and fight it with all their energies," said the Rev. John Galvin Bloomfield, representing the Methodist Protestant church.

Technical Loophole in Statute to Be Used By His Attorneys

CHICAGO, May 5. (AP)—An attempt to free Al Capone, Chicago gang leader, imprisoned at Alcatraz prison in California, through a newly discovered loophole in a federal statute will be launched by Chicago attorneys, it was disclosed today.

If it is decided that the avenue is open to Capone, the attorneys' first move, it was expected, would be to apply for a writ of habeas corpus in the federal court at San Francisco.

Capone is serving a sentence of 11 years in the federal prison on Alcatraz island.

The apparently trivial difference between "a" and "the" in a federal statute was the key the Chicago lawyers, William Parillo and Lyman Sherwood, said they were studying as capable, possibly, of releasing the nation's most notorious gang leader.

That the single word in the statute was a potent piece of legal grammar came to light yesterday, when it was used successfully to bring about the dismissal of fraud indictments against six executives of the Trustee System Service corporation, small loan organization.

The newly-found loophole relies on the use of "a" instead of "the" in a statute covering the manner in which grand juries may be extended.

Capone went to jail, convicted of dodging income taxes on his prohibition day bootlegging millions, on May 4, 1932, becoming federal prisoner No. 40,866 in Atlanta. He was transferred at the completion of the fortress-prison on Alcatraz island, off the California Coast.

Fiend Assaults,
Murders Girl, 7

WATERVILLE, Me., May 5. (AP)—The ravished body of Mary Proulx, 7, missing since Sunday, was found today in a clump of alder bushes on the banks of a Messeque stream. The child had been bound and gagged and apparently died of strangulation.

Circumstances of the slaying were virtually the same as those in the unsolved slaying last October of Annie K. Knights, 12, school girl of nearby Fairfield.

Medical Examiner Napoleon Bisson said the child had been assaulted. The girl was one of four children of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Proulx.

ITALIANS IN ADDIS ABABA;
'WAR IS OVER!' SAYS DUCEQUIZZING OF TOWNSEND
DELAYED

Pension Chief Suddenly Excused From Stand For Two Weeks

WASHINGTON, May 5. (AP)—The long-awaited appearance of Dr. F. E. Townsend before the house committee investigating the Townsend old age pension plan today was postponed suddenly for two weeks.

The grey-haired, bespectacled, retired California physician had been at his suggestion, Dr. Townsend said, to proceed when Chairman Bell (D., Mo.) made his unexpected announcement of the delay.

Wait for Records

Bell told newsmen later that important depositions and other records, some of them obtained by a subcommittee in California, had not arrived and were vital to the questioning of Dr. Townsend.

Asked outside the hearing room if the postponement had been at his suggestion, Dr. Townsend said: "Lord bless you, no. I've been waiting to get here and get it over with."

"I welcome the investigation," he continued, "if it is to be an investigation and not a dilatory putting off. I can give the committee all the information I can give in a day's time and would like to have the pumping process over."

Dr. Townsend reiterated he was "all ready to testify" and that the setting over of the hearing "breaks up our travel and other plans."

Caravan Starts

The chairman said it would take "perhaps two or three days" to get the necessary papers to Washington. Asked why the hearing could not be resumed when the required records arrived, he said Dr. Townsend was to go to California and "some members of the committee wanted to give him every courtesy."

Dr. Townsend said the Townsend caravan from California to the capital carrying petitions endorsing the Townsend plan and urging the enactment of the plan into law left the west coast today for Washington with "3000 cars at the California border."

He said the caravan would reach here in two weeks, just about the time he is scheduled to appear before the committee.

Bell said the Townsend caravan plan, which he characterized as "another hoax on the aged and infirm," had nothing to do with the postponement of the hearing.

EXCELSIOR SPRINGS, Mo., May 5. (AP)—Milo Reno, 71, of Des Moines, president of the National Farmers' Holiday association, died of an acute heart attack in his room at the Shapp hotel here at 10:15 a. m. today. He had been convalescing from influenza.

Reno came here March 7 suffering from a severe cold which developed into influenza and rheumatism.

Reno first came into the national eye in the early 1920's as an evangelist of the discontented farmer in the Midwest. He directed strikes of farm producers in several states in 1932 and 1933.

Reno used to be a minister and was noted for the denunciatory character of some of his pulpit utterances.

ORCHARDS TO GET BENEFIT PAYMENTS

New Ruling to Affect 70,000 Acres in This County

Orange county's 70,000 acres of citrus and walnut groves today had been made eligible for benefit payments of one dollar per net acre of cover crop grown, under the agricultural conservation act. A ruling by Secretary of Agriculture Wallace to this effect was received by the farm advisor's office here.

Under the initial interpretation of the act, orchards were not eligible for payments. Under the new interpretation, only those groves in which cover crops are raised are eligible, it was explained by Farm Advisor Harold Wahlberg.

Benefit payments will be made on the basis of the net acreage covered by these cover crops. In other words in an old orange grove something like 50 per cent of the acreage is actually planted to cover crop. In a walnut grove, he explained, this area is comparatively much larger.

About 75 per cent of the citrus acreage and 85 per cent of the entire orchard area uses cover cropping, Mr. Wahlberg said. There are about 65,000 acres of citrus and 7000 acres of walnut trees in the county he added.

Riley Hits Board

SAN FRANCISCO, May 5. (AP)—State Controller Ray L. Riley charged today the state board of equalization is trying to "gold brick" the people of California.

Speaking to the taxation section of the Commonwealth club of San Francisco, Riley caustically criticized the equalization board's proposed amendment to create a tax commission and a liquor control board as an effort to build a political organization that would dominate elections for years to come.

Reporters inquired subsequently if he had meant advocacy of the reelection of Roosevelt. Green assented.

KOENIG

Judge Gives Maximum Term to County Man For Sexual Crime

For the commission of a sexual crime against a 13-year-old boy on Jan. 1, 1935, Alvin Koenig, 24-year-old former Orange county Boy Scout worker and U. S. C. track star, today is facing a life behind the bars of San Quentin.

Playing him savagely for the commission of the crime and other similar ones, Superior Judge James L. Allen yesterday afternoon received Koenig's plea of guilty and sentenced him to the state penitentiary for the term prescribed by law, from one year to life imprisonment.

To Urge Full Term

He told Koenig that he would "give himself the pleasure of recommending to the prison board that the term be extended to the full limit of the law."

"Right must prevail," he said. "Your job was to help these boys in your Boy Scout work, to try and make men of them. In assisting them on the road you did you have demonstrated yourself even lower than the best. As a matter of fact I know of no animal that would do what you did."

Koenig, arrested last week in New Jersey, and returned here by Chief Criminal Deputy Sheriff Merle Dean, identified himself as a student. He said he had been in Boy Scout work since 1931, when he was a sophomore in college. He gave his address as Box 254, Atwood.

Others Sentenced

The youth is the third of four asserted by mistreaters to be sentenced to San Quentin within the past week. A fourth, Frank Y. Barrows, 63, of La Habra, will go to trial Wednesday, on a plea of not guilty by reason of insanity.

William John Sutherland, former Orange High school teacher, and Arthur Crowell, organist in an Orange theater, and music teacher, were sentenced to terms of from one to 15 years.

Their penalties were lighter because their crimes were committed against boys over 14 years of age.

Pension Caravan

LOS ANGELES, May 5. (AP)—Eighty grey-haired men and women adherents of the Townsend old age pension plan started in 20 automobiles today to relay a mass of petitions across the nation to Washington.

By the time the petitions reach congress the Townsend leaders hope to have 10,000,000 signatures urging support of the McGroarty old-age pension bill. A crowd of about 1000 prayed, sang hymns, and cheered as the caravan started off for El Centro, the first stopping point.

ROME, May 5.—Sirens and bells sounded in Rome late today, summoning the citizens to celebration after the war ministry received information that Addis Ababa had fallen.

The summons was to the long-expected adunata, or national mass meeting, expected to symbolize Italy's victory over Ethiopia.

In response to the tocsin, half the population of Italy sprang to military and semi-military formation.

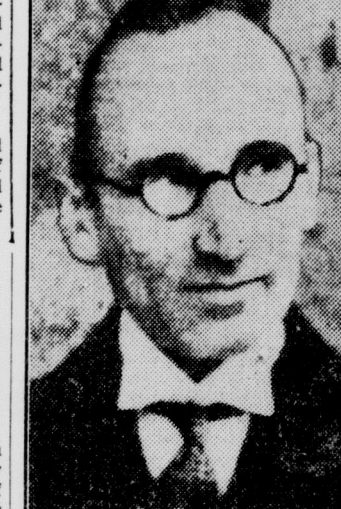

It was the second time since Italy's war with Ethiopia started that Il Duce called on people to march in military formation to Rome's conquering legions reached their goal of Addis Ababa today, and all Italy celebrated.

The Fascist troops entered the Ethiopian capital through which, for four days, hordes of rioting natives had spread. Just previous to the Italian entry, Cornelius Van H. Engert, United States minister-resident, and his staff had evacuated the American legation for the safety of the British compound after days and nights of standing off mobs.

Meanwhile Premier Mussolini declared in Rome tonight "the war is over" and "Ethiopia is Italian."

He made his declaration to half the population of Italy assembled through the nation in an adunata—an official mobilization of the public.

SNAKE DEATH VICTIM'S BODY EXHUMED; HUSBAND SEALS LIPS

FIND WOUND ON FOOT OF SLAIN WIFE

Fitts Will Ask Murder Indictment of James By L. A. Grand Jury

LOS ANGELES, May 5. (AP)—A small wound similar to a snake bite was found today on the body of Mrs. Mary Bush James, fifth wife of Robert S. James, accused by the district attorney's office of killing her last August 3 in a fantastic plot involving rattlesnakes and drowning.

The wound was on the side of her left big toe. Her body was exhumed this morning from a grave in Forest Lawn cemetery.

"The finding of the puncture on Mrs. James' big toe explains the reason for the rapid swelling and the black condition of her left leg," said Coroner Frank Nance. "The condition is characteristic of snake bites."

The body was examined by Coroner Nance, County Autopsy Surgeon A. F. Wagner and Dr. Gustav Boehme, toxicologist.

Weird Death Plan

Authorities have quoted James and Charles H. Hope, former sailor, as confessing Mrs. Mary Bush James was put to death last August 3 in this weird manner:

First, her leg was thrust into a box of hissing, writhing rattlesnakes. Then, as the poison of the serpents did not seem to have the desired effect, she was drowned in a bathtub and her body tossed into a fish pond at the James' home.

In their alleged confessions, each accused the other of killing Mrs. James. Both admitted planning to share in the benefits of insurance policies the woman had.

Wants Death Penalty

Determined to send James to the gallows, District Attorney Buron Fitts will ask the grand jury tomorrow to indict the master barber for first degree murder.

Several witnesses will be questioned to supply episodes of an alleged plot rivaling a Poe horror tale. They include reptile fanciers from whom Hope is accused of purchasing venomous snakes and black widow spiders; Mabel Strickland, a waitress who said she heard James and his wife quarreling.

Talks Too Much

The quarrel, she said, came after the 37-year-old barber was discussing insurance with some men in the cafe where she was employed.

Fitts said Mrs. James held policies which would pay her husband $21,000 if she died, accidentally. James followed a close-mouthed policy today upon the advice of his attorney, Sam Silverman.

"He's done too much talking already," said Silverman, and he added he would not permit his client to testify before the grand jury.

Authorities followed Hope yesterday on a trek as bizarre as the stories the two prisoners have been quoted by Fitts as relating.

Hope, held with James on suspicion of the murder, escorted them to reptile dealers, to a cabinet maker whom he said made boxes in which to keep them, to spots where he tossed the containers after they had served their purpose.

Asks For Ice Cream

He seemed almost cheerful about the sordid journey. He requested an ice cream cone and got it. Again, he suggested the journey be halted to permit him to drink a bottle of pop.

Hope's spirits bogged down later when he escorted the investigators to a drug store where, he said he bought sleeping powders which, according to his story, were administered to Mrs. James before she was subjected to the snakes' fangs.

The druggist found the prescription for the poison. He said he could not identify the purchaser.

"It was me—I did it," Charles Griffen, of Fitts' office, quoted Hope as whispering.

HAYDEN'S PUPIL WINS CONTEST

Santa Ana had a special interest today in the winner of the Toastmasters club high school public speaking contest held at San Diego Saturday, in view of the fact that he was coached by Sheldon Hayden, former Santa Ana High school instructor, now at Santa Monica.

The winner was Douglas Bryan, whose talk, "Uncle Sam's Medical Chest," won him a freshman scholarship at Stanford university. The sweepstakes prize was presented by the Toastmasters' International, according to Ralph Snedley of Santa Ana, founder of the organization.

Three years ago John McFarland of this city won the sweepstakes prize. He also had been coached by Mr. Hayden.

The second prize went to Gene Brady of Grossmont High school, San Diego, who spoke on "Believe in Yourself."

Paul Demaree of Anaheim was in general charge of the contest. Mr. Snedley and Frederick Eley of Santa Ana attended the affair.

Following the contest there was a radio broadcast at which the winners were presented, and a banquet in the Granada cafe on the exposition grounds.

MEDAL WON BY GENERATOR

Medal for the best front page for high school papers published for a student body numbering 800 to 1500 pupils was awarded to the Generator, Santa Ana High school weekly, Saturday at annual spring convention of the Southern California High School Press association, in Pomona.

Marc N. Goodnow, University of Southern California field representative, made the award. The Generator also rated second place in sports page contests.

In the Santa Ana group attending were Dorothy Oleson, Generator editor; Bob Warren, Ed Vealard, Herschel Albrecht, Jack Norman, Bill Keaton, Gloria Kirchner, Catherine Cooper, LaVonne Frandson, last semester's editor; Geraldine Gilbert, Audrey Granas, John McCoy, journalism instructor; Mrs. Vera Allen, Willard Junior High school teacher; and Mrs. Hugh Hougham.

The local paper's representative will serve as secretary of the association for annual fall convention.

Goldfish And Chickens Stolen

Santa Ana police today were investigating two peculiar burglaries reported to have occurred over the week-end.

Dr. Roy Horton, upon arriving at his office at 113 1/2 North Main street Monday morning, discovered that several rocks had been removed from the fish pond at the rear of his office. Upon investigation he found 50 goldfish in the pool had been stolen. Dr. Horton estimated the missing fish were worth $10.

Two whole "families" were kidnapped from the home of Mrs. Charlotte Nisson, 2500 North Main street, Saturday night. Two old hens and their broods of young chicks, numbering approximately 25, were taken from the backyard. Mrs. Nisson told officers the missing chickens were worth $10.

MINERALS WILL BE DISPLAYED

Mineralogical collections will be displayed tonight by members of the West Coast Mineralogical Society and adult classes in mineralogy in room 22 at Fullerton High school and junior college. Annual election of officers for the society will take place at 7 o'clock in room 23.

At 6 p. m. tomorrow, the two groups will meet for pot-luck dinner at the junior college there. Arthur C. Terrell will lecture at 7 p. m. on "Prospecting," and Earl Dysinger will show four reels of film depicting mining of iron and making of pig iron and steel. The picture was made through cooperation of the U. S. Bureau of Mines and U. S. Steel Company.

The Czechoslovakian mineralogical collection of Kenneth Garner will be added to the society's display Thursday evening at San Bernardino Junior college. The group will attend annual meeting of the Orange Belt Mineralogical Society.

Two field trips are planned, the first party to leave Saturday morning from the Terrill home, 205 East Commonwealth, Fullerton.

WASHINGTON, May 5. (AP)—A special order relieved Maj. Gen. Johnson Hagood of command of the sixth corps area yesterday and directed him to proceed to his home to await the retirement he has requested.

The war department acted only a few hours after Hagood—who spent seven weeks in military exile criticizing WPA spending policies—asked immediate retirement.

A witness of the wreck said the driver lost control as the vehicle was going downhill, and it side-swiped a tree.

MORE ABOUT ETHIOPIA

The Italian leader was unable to speak for the first 10 minutes after he appeared, so tremendous the ovation accorded him.

Voice Trembles "I announce to the Italian people and to the world that peace is reestablished," said Mussolini, his voice trembling with emotion.

"It is not without emotion and not without pride that after seven months of fierce hostilities I pronounce this great word, but it is strictly necessary for me to add that it is our peace and a Roman peace which is expressed in this simple, irrevocable, definite phrase."

"Ethiopia is Italian!" "Il Duce declared that the chiefs remaining in Ethiopia 'no longer count' as negotiators."

"Italy," said Mussolini, "has lived many memorable hours until that of today, which certainly is one of the most solemn."

Ready to Defend Victory Recalling how last Oct. 2 he said he did not wish to make the Ethiopian question a European question, Mussolini declared:

"We now are ready to defend our victory with the same inexorable decision with which we achieved it."

Terms of peace, he asserted, "must be marked with the Roman spirit. It cannot be a lame peace, for we mean that this Ethiopian problem be settled once and for all—settled as it has been by our own sacrifices alone, by our own blood alone, by our own money alone without asking anyone for anything."

NEW WISDOM CASE TRIAL ORDERED

Superior Judge James L. Allen yesterday ordered a new trial in the damage action of John F. (Jack) Wisdom of Santa Ana and Montebello against A. V. Swanson of Anaheim, after startling revelations of perjury and frame-up in the first trial had been made in superior court here.

Wisdom, who won an $1800 judgment from Swanson on March 4, assertedly simulated injuries he had not sustained. Defense Attorney Franklin G. West claimed yesterday. Evidence of Wisdom's alleged sweetheart, Mrs. Babe Engleman of La Habra and Fullerton, was perjured in his favor. Mr. West claimed.

Perjury on Both Sides

"There seems to have been misrepresentation and perjury on both sides of this case," Judge Allen commented. "Affidavits submitted by Mrs. Engleman and her mother have impeached themselves, and I certainly feel that the truth of this matter has not been told." He ordered the judgment vacated and a new trial held.

Mrs. Engleman created a courtroom sensation yesterday when she collapsed under stringent cross-examination by Joseph Blackwood of Los Angeles, attorney for Wisdom.

A move was made to obtain a new trial when Mrs. Paul Baldwin, mother of Mrs. Engleman, read of the $1800 judgment in a Santa Ana newspaper. She immediately went to Mr. Swanson and told him that "Wisdom is not entitled to one nickel from you—he really wasn't hurt at all."

Attorneys West and Joe Spray, for the defense, immediately set out to obtain affidavits from witnesses in the case, and succeeded in getting a statement from Mrs. Engleman contradicting evidence given by her in the trial.

More Affidavits

She later repudiated this affidavit in one given to Wisdom's attorneys, and still later gave a third affidavit repudiating the one she had given to Blackwood and Bingham Gray, counsel for Wisdom.

Mr. West testified yesterday that he had made every effort to find Mr. Wisdom and get statements from him before moving for the new trial, and that he apparently had disappeared, leaving a maze of blind addresses.

In a divorce action started March 26 by Mrs. Engleman's husband, he charges that Wisdom is the father of two of Mrs. Engleman's children, and that she has been intimate with him for years. She apparently decided to withdraw her testimony in his cause

MORE ABOUT CELEBRATION

(Continued from Page One) was rent by the shrieking of whistles, sirens, church bells. Drums and bugles in military and black shirt headquarters shrilled and rolled out the summons to arms.

In a few minutes silence descended. People in the capital and other great cities were busy donning their uniforms. For a short space of time the streets were deserted. An airplane attack could have caused no more concerted plunge into the quiet of home life.

City in Excitement The first news of the fall of the Ethiopian capital reached Rome through London, to which Sir Sidney Barton, British minister to Addis Ababa, had reported the arrival of the Italian troops. Citizens rushed to their appointed posts by the thousands.

The chamber of deputies adjourned until tomorrow.

When the sirens started sounding, the whole private telephone system of Rome was turned off. Offices were closed and managers as well as clerks crowded into buses in the stream of humanity which began flowing toward the Piazza Venezia.

Air Ports Ready Tens of thousands of flags appeared as if by magic on house and store fronts.

First to move out to pre-concerted posts were the military. At every air field pilots and mechanics hastily turned up their planes, waiting for orders. Along the frontiers customs guards moved out at a run to double their patrols. Anti-aircraft militia in every city took up their positions.

Federal carabinieri and metropolitan police dog-trotted to places of special assignment. In Rome these police formed triple ranks around the embassies, legations and consulates of nations which have most vigorously carried on the sanctions siege against Italy.

Bite of Snake Kills Cultist

BARTOW, Fla., May 5. (AP)—Demonstrations with poisonous reptiles were banned here today following the death of Alfred D. Weaver, 35-year-old faith cultist who was bitten by a large diamondback rattlesnake during a revival meeting Sunday night.

A coroner's jury decided Weaver died "by the bite of a rattlesnake through his own carelessness," but a fellow member of his congregation said the dead man had been "ready to lay down his life for the Lord."

When told that he had left her and would not come back.

'LITTLE AAA' FACES NEW BATTLE

A second court battle in an attempt to establish validity of the California Agricultural Adjustment Act will be started here Wednesday, with the filing of an amended complaint against Wither Brothers, Placentia fruit packers, by the district attorney.

District Attorney W. F. Menton was to go to Los Angeles today to draw up the complaint with Ivan McDaniel, counsel for the growers' advisory committee to the "little AAA," it was explained.

The amended complaint originally was to be filed yesterday. Deputy District Attorney Preston Turner, who is handling the case, said.

Alien Ousts Law

California's "little AAA" was declared unconstitutional by Superior Judge James L. Allen recently, at the conclusion of hearing to show cause why the Wither Brothers firm should not be restrained from shipping fruit without first obtaining a prorated base and a state license from the agricultural commission.

At that time Judge Allen ruled that the act delegated authority unlawfully, and that prorated of intra-state orange shipments and regulation of shipments was unconstitutional. He denied the state's application for the writ of injunction.

Plan High Appeal

Mr. Turner was unable to say yesterday what the grounds for the new complaint would be.

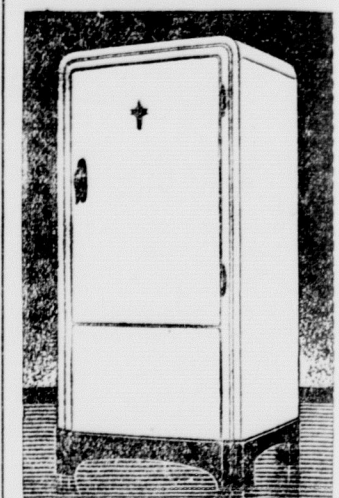

Attorney McDaniel has indicated that if Judge Allen again rules for the defendants in the case that state's attorneys would take the case directly to the supreme court for a re-hearing.

Members of the advisory committee said that if the supreme court decision is against the AAA, regulation of citrus shipments would be continued under authority of the state prorated act, the same under which lemon prorations are conducted. LeRoy Lyon, Anaheim, is the Orange county member of the advisory committee, which administers fruit regulations under authority of the act.

EXTENSION OF BALBOA PIER SLATED BY CITY COUNCIL

ADDITION OF 400 FEET IS PLANNED

Marine Avenue on Island To Be Widened; Name City Committees

WE HEARD the best story in some time from Fire Chief Frank Crocker down at Balboa. Frank is an angling enthusiast. In fact, he's head of the Balboa Angling club. Thus he can be forgiven for straying from absolute facts as far as fishing is concerned, but he claims that this is true.

Seems, according to the story, that two youngsters, about knee high, went rushing into Cliff Von Kennel's tackle store. They literally tore through the doorway and gasped to see Mrs. Clifton. "Fine," she said. "We have lots of fishline. How much would you like to pay for yours?"

"Well," the spokesman said, "We have 3 cents. Would that be enough? You see," he added, "We just saw a big fish down by the dock and we want to catch him."

Being fond of kids, Mrs. Von Kennel searched around until she found a line for the youngsters. "What are you going to do for a hook?" she asked.

They hadn't thought of that, so she gave them a hook. "How about a sinker?" was her next question. They didn't have a sinker, either, but thought they could pick up something to use as a sinker, too.

"Well, and now how about bait?"

That was something else they hadn't thought about. So she told them to reach into the bait barrel and take a few salted anchovies.

The youngsters handed over their 3 cents and left in a big rush, to "bring back the big fish they saw in the bay."

And, in a few minutes, they brought back the fish!

Veteran anglers were astounded at the tale, but admit that it's plausible, especially as the catch was a halibut. That certain fish often lies in the same spot for hours at a time, swooping out after small fry as they swim past, Frank explained.

But, anyway, the youngsters got their 3 cents worth and also their fish.

Incidentally, when we wandered into the fire station it sounded as if the radio were turned on. Someone was singing cowboy tunes. Turned out to be the fire chief. He's not so bad.

Then we sneaked into Harbor Master Tommy Bouchey's office. Tommy was working on his day off. Preparing for the harbor celebration May 23 and 24. He's fixed up maps which will be sent to all yachtsmen, showing them where they can anchor their boats during the festival and giving instructions how to get in and out of their anchorages.

Also, he said something about a boat ride one of these days. We'll be back!

Then we saw a couple of guys working on a boat. Their names were Ed and Marshall and they immediately started telling what a mean boss they had.

NEWPORT-BALBOA.—Extension of the 700-foot Balboa pier, left almost on dry land by recent dredging operations, was planned at a city council meeting last night when City Engineer R. L. Patterson was instructed to prepare plans and specifications for the project.

The proposed plan will extend the pier 400 feet seaward which council members said would attract anglers to the beach and would also assist yachtsmen in watching races between Newport and Balboa.

Plans and specifications also were submitted by Mr. Patterson for erection of a $2200 rest room at the east jetty in Corona Del Mar. City Clerk Frank Rinehart was ordered to call for bids providing there are sufficient funds in the city treasury.

Plans also were made for widening of Marine Avenue on Balboa island. Plans for extensive improvements on the city camp grounds were also started. Members proposed to put in curbs, make an east entrance, install lights and improve the park in general.

Bids were called for 144 feet of 20-inch cast-iron pipe to be used for a water main near the grade separation at The Arches. The job is expected to cost $3500.

The city decided to purchase 275 lots for $275. The lots are in the Corona Del Mar section and were sold for county taxes. The city will sell them to the new subdividers for the price of city taxes.

Committees were named. Finance, Irving Gordon and John J. A. Garfield; police, E. G. Whitson and Lloyd Clark; fire and water, lights and sewer, Garfield and Whitson; advertising, Whitson and Clark; special committee on the Balboa island seawall, Whitson, Judge Grainger Hyer, E. G. Chapter 41
MYSTERY'S END

"Good Lord!" said Allan, jumping out of his wicker chair. He stared at Morgan's tall, slender figure, broad shouldered, loose jointed, lounging behind the older man.

"Good afternoon, Allan," said Morgan placidly. "How is Granny?"

"So that's the answer," Allan said with his little amused laugh. It sounded harmless enough except for the amazing fact that Morgan and Allan knew each other. But Morgan's face was at its blackest.

"How dare you go on misjudging Iris?" Then he got hold of his temper with an effort and spoke, gravely. "After all, suspicion's a family affair. We'd neither of us got hardened to honesty."

Allan still looked blankly shocked and a little pale; but he snatched with fair success at his usual manner.

CITY OFFICIALS DELUGED BY PLANS FOR IMPROVEMENTS

Various departments of city government today were coming up for air after a deluge of improvement recommendations by the planning commission. The suggestions were submitted to the city council last night.

They included proposals for extension of South Flower street and West Fourth street, painting of metal light standards and fire hydrants, a survey of broken sidewalks, a new band stand for Birch park, a wading pool in the park for children, new comfort stations in the park, and stricter enforcement of the ordinance regulating the height of awnings.

Meet Tomorrow
Councilman William Penn announced that a committee consisting of himself and Councilman Ernest Layton will meet tomorrow with the planning commission in regard to opening and widening South Flower street. The proposal for extending Fourth street was referred to the same committee. This suggestion advised extending the street along the Pacific Electric company right of way to join

West Fifth street at the point where the tracks cross that thoroughfare.

Street Commissioner Layton reported that fire hydrants are now being painted and that the street department is planning to paint the metal light standards.

No Park Funds

In regard to the Birch park improvements Mr. Layton said that this work had been recommended by the planning commission some time ago and that plans for the band stand had been drawn with the idea of having the work done as a Works Progress administration project. He said that the city has no funds available with which to supply the sponsor's share of the cost of the work but that it might be possible to set this money aside in the next budget. The matter was referred to the forestry board.

Mr. Layton said a survey is being made on the subject of broken sidewalks and similar hazards. The matter of the height of awnings was referred to Building Inspector S. I. Preble.

CITY COUNCIL STANDS 'PAT' ON TOWNSEND PROPOSAL

Santa Ana's city council was on record today as believing the congressional investigation of the Townsend old age pension plan has been carried out with the sole aim of casting aspersions on the plan. It also was on record as reaffirming its previous stand that it believes the plan is sound and worthy of adoption.

The council last night unanimously adopted a resolution to this effect, presented by Councilman Plummer Bruns, while a group of about 135 Townsend supporters looked on and applauded.

Miss Turkey Dinners

Councilman Ernest Layton, who seconded the motion for the resolution, remarked after its adoption:

"Mr. Chairman, I want to say right now that you and Mr. Smith missed one of the finest turkey dinners you ever ate, at the Townsend hall tonight."

Mr. Smith said he had already spent a dollar for a ticket to another dinner and thought he ought to use it.

Reaffirm Old Stand

The resolution recalled that on Feb. 25, 1935, the council adopted another resolution urging congress to give consideration to the Townsend plan. The new resolution reaffirmed this stand. It also went on to say the council believes the investigation's sole aim is to cast aspersions on the plan rather than to bring out its merits.

Copies of the resolution will be sent to President Roosevelt, Congressman Sam L. Collins, Fullerton, member of the investigating committee, and other officials.

Attorney A. P. Nelson thanked the council for its action.

Huts Used by Santa Anan's Cousin Found in Arctic

Huts used by the cousin of a Santa Ana woman, on an unsuccessful polar expedition 34 years ago, have been re-entered for the first time by a Russian aviator. The huts are located on Rudolf island, one of the northernmost groups of islands off Franz Josef land.

The Santa Ana woman is Mrs. Frank Wilson, 719 East Fourth street. Her explorer cousin was Evelyn B. Baldwin. In the winter of 1901-02 the late Mr. Baldwin and his men set out for the North Pole on an expedition financed by the late William Ziegler, baking powder magnate who said he would plant the American flag at the North Pole if it took his entire fortune.

The Baldwin expedition was unsuccessful because of the loss of its sledges and returned to Norway Aug. 1, 1902.

Mikhail Vodopyanoff, the Russian aviator, entered the huts on April 29, according to information reaching here. It was the first time the spot had been reached since Mr. Baldwin and his men abandoned it. A considerable stock of food was found in the hut.

SOUTHLAND TOMATO MEN MAY FIX GRADING RULES TOMORROW

MEET AT 1:30
WITH STATE
OFFICIALSGrowers Are Seeking Satisfactory Set of Regulations

The Southern California tomato growers' committee of the farm bureau will meet in the farm bureau offices here tomorrow at 1:30 p. m. with officials of the state health department, with a view to arriving at an understanding as to the health department's interpretation of tomato grading regulations.

Alex Johnson, state farm bureau secretary, will be present, according to Roland D. Flaherty, Orange county farm bureau secretary.

New grading regulations put into effect during the past harvest season will be discussed. Conferences were held last season regarding the grades, but the growers never were entirely satisfied. Mr. Flaherty said today that last year one-third of the tomatoes in Orange county were left in the fields because of the grades, a worm infestation and hot weather.

Orange county growers raise an early tomato called the Earliana. The fruit has a characteristic green ring on the end even when entirely ripe. When the new grades were imposed last year this fruit was graded green at first, Mr. Flaherty said, but later in the summer this system was modified. Tomorrow's conference will attempt to arrive at an understanding on what practice will be followed this season in grading Earliana tomatoes.

Theodore Anderson, Orange, was included among those who successfully passed the California Bar association examinations held in March, it was announced today.

A total of 207 applicants were successful in passing the examinations, it was reported, 101 of them from cities in Southern California. The vast majority were from Los Angeles. Mr. Anderson was the only applicant from Orange county.

POLITICAL

ALFRED E. SMITH

By the Associated Press
Alfred E. Smith, the presidential choice of the Democrats in 1928, craves may not be his choice in 1936.

He made a campaign slogan at a Washington gathering of the American Liberty league when he said that Democrats who do not choose the administration can, and probably will, "take a walk."

Before the campaign swings down the home stretch, comes the convention at Philadelphia and Smith has been chosen a delegate from New York. It is expected that rebels within party ranks will rally to his standard, and that a blow-up, if one comes, will find Smith captaining one group.

What he will do after the convention is anyone's guess. There hangs the "take a walk" threat if he disapproves the convention's action. And Smith could be, if he wished, a valuable campaigner.

DIVIDEND VOTED

NEW YORK, May 5. (AP)—Directors of General Motors corporation today declared an extra dividend of 75 cents and the regular quarterly dividend of 50 cents on the common stock. Dec. 12 last an extra of 50 cents was paid and on Sept. 12 an extra of 25 cents was disbursed.

FLOWERS ARE READY FOR
VISITORSSanta Ana Day Coming
Saturday at Rancho
Santa Ana Gardens

Wild flowers at Rancho Santa Ana Botanic Gardens today were decking themselves in their brightest colors to be ready for the host of visitors who will arrive there next Saturday—Santa Ana day. Special arrangements have been made to set aside this day for residents of this city to enjoy the wide variety of flowers and shrubs at the gardens in the Santa Ana canyon.

About 175 different wild flowers are now in bloom, most of which will be displayed and named in the display room adjacent to the nursery, it was learned from the garden management today.

Only Native Plants

Visitors will see first the sanctuary for Orange county wild flowers, adjacent to the picnic grounds. On the west, as they enter, they will see about 135 varieties of wild flowers in seed rows, most of which are now in bloom. The sanctuary contains only plants which are native of Orange county.

After this visit the guests may go through the propagation nursery, where they will see thousands of trees and shrubs being grown.

Nine Miles of Trails

In the afternoon visitors will inspect the administration building and see the rest of the botanic gardens adjacent to it, covering about 200 acres. There are nine miles of trails through the gardens, as well as three or four miles of roads.

The gardens are labeled. Guests may stroll through these trails by themselves, or members of the garden staff will accompany them.

The visiting hours on Saturday will be from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. Invitations may be secured from the chamber of commerce office here, where approximately 100 have been distributed already. Last year on Santa Ana day approximately 275 persons visited the gardens.

During the day Dr. Carl B. Wolf, botanist at the garden, will give a talk, probably on the subject, "Plants of Orange County."

Santa Ana day was inaugurated last year through the cooperation of the chamber of commerce and Mrs. Susanna Bixby Bryant, resident director, who supplied the land on which the garden project is being carried out. Plants are collected from all over California and are raised in the botanic garden, where it is planned to preserve every known type of native California plant.

Last Saturday the garden was opened for visitors at the request of various groups which are unable to attend on the regular Thursday visiting days. Approximately 200 persons were there. On the preceding Thursday about 150 people visited the garden.

Drunk Drivers
Begin Terms

Two residents of Anaheim yesterday started terms in the county jail following their conviction in the Anaheim justice court of drunk driving. A third man, Hill Luker, 23, Orange, who was arrested by Orange police, started a 12½-day sentence for reckless driving.

The two drunk drivers are Tony Gaxiola, 50, and Robert E. Cooley, 30. Gaxiola's sentence is for 25 days and Cooley's for 50 days. Both were given alternatives of paying fines.

WATER FIGHT
PEACE PLAN
NEARS ENDLocal District To Ask
'Plenty' From the Upper Counties

Orange county proposals for settling the water lawsuit against upper county interests, filed by James Irvine to prevent increase in water spreading on the Santa Ana river, will be completed and forwarded to upper county groups early next week.

"We're asking for plenty," said C. Roy Browning, engineer for the Irvine company and member of the county water district board of directors. Aside from this, Mr. Browning said, he was not at liberty to divulge details of the proposal.

Terms Not Accepted

Water interests in the upper counties some time ago sent to the water district board here their basis of settlement of the suit. They set up the amount of Santa Ana river water to which they said they believed they were entitled. This proposal never has been accepted by the Orange county groups.

Recently a group of water organizations in Orange county met and approved a counter-proposal which was now worked out, authorizing the water district to continue negotiations for settlement of the lawsuit, with the counter-proposal as the basis.

In Final Form

Mr. Browning said today the proposal had been put in final form and was now being checked by attorneys in Los Angeles, after which it would be forwarded to the upper county groups.

The lawsuit filed by Mr. Irvine in federal court seeks to curb the increase in spreading operations where water is held back and sunk into the underground basin on the upper reaches of the river.

How's Business?

How does the nation stand economically? Just how far have we recovered from the depression? If business is improving many lines why are so many persons out of work? These are some of the questions discussed in a series of six daily articles, of which this is the first.

By CLAUDE A. JAGGER

(Associated Press Financial Editor)
NEW YORK, May 5. (AP)—Cold hard figures telling the tale of America's march out of the land of hard times indicate that the dividing line between depression and prosperity has been reached.

Statistics measuring several major aspects of economic America indicate that since the business pendulum struck bottom it has swung up the recovery arc about half way between the high level of 1929 and the low levels of three and four years ago.

Business analysts see profound significance in the fact that in many respects about half the extreme losses since the busy days seven years ago have been regained.

Stocks Rally Strongly

The Associated Press weekly index of industrial activity has risen to a point slightly above midway between the 1929 top and the lows of 1932 and 1933.

Factory employment, as measured by the U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics' index, has likewise recovered approximately 50 per cent of its extreme loss from 1929 to early 1933.

In Wall street, shares listed in the Stock Exchange have recovered almost half of the billions of quoted value that were swept away in the black torrents of selling from 1929 to the summer of 1932.

The net income of corporations shows a somewhat similar comeback. The Standard Statistics Co.'s index of the earnings of 120 industrial companies came back in 1935 from less than nothing in 1932 to a level slightly more than 40 per cent of 1929.

Picture Not Entirely Bright

But analysts generally acknowledge that the recovery march, impressive as it has been in some respects, is far from complete. A large part of the population continues to live on the credit of its government or on the fat of former years. Uncle Sam has borrowed some $13,000,000,000, chiefly from the banks, since 1929, and still is borrowing. President Roosevelt, re-elected in 1936, has indicated that some 15,000,000 persons were living partly or wholly on relief.

++ County Landmarks ++
Coyote Creek, Boundary of County,
Is Permanent Landmark

(In an effort to acquaint residents of Orange county with some of their most prized historic possessions, The Journal is publishing a series of daily articles on county landmarks. These articles will describe their location and give historical facts concerning them. Today's article tells about Coyote Creek.—Editor.)

Coyote creek, four miles north of Anaheim, will always be a significant landmark of Orange county, for it marks the boundary between this county and its parent, Los Angeles county. The county was formed in 1889, but the battle for separation from Los Angeles county began in 1869. At that time the boundary was proposed for a line much farther in the present Los Angeles county.

The first proponent of a new county in this area was Major Max Strobel, a colorful German adventurer. Strobel was in the German revolution of 1848 and later filibustered with William Walker, in Nicaragua. He came to Anaheim later, where he bought a vineyard and started a newspaper.

Strobel went to Sacramento to further his scheme of county division, which was financed by contributions from those he left behind. When his plans did not meet with success, the gold supply was cut off. Strobel returned to Anaheim, but his schemes still cropped up. Later he sold Catalina island to English capitalists, but died just before the deal was to have been closed.

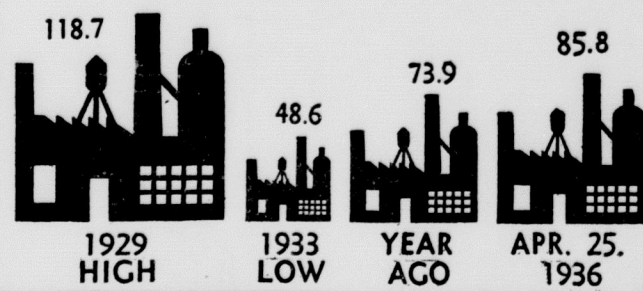

The battle for county division continued, however, with the boundary line always moving southward. Eventually the struggle was won and the bill creating the county gained the governor's signature. In this bill Coyote creek was the boundary.

CHICAGO, May 5. (AP)—With midwestern farmers offering wages 10 to 12 per cent above last year, relief officials and employment service agencies predicted American farms would absorb up to 300,000 workers from relief rolls this spring and thousands otherwise unemployed.

A survey of 10 states from Ohio to Nebraska showed farmers paying an average of $1.40 a day with board for help in spring planting, or $1.80 a day without board.

MAJOR TRADE MAKES CLIMB
TOWARD FAMOUS 1929 PEAKINDUSTRIAL ACTIVITY STEADILY EXPANDS
(AP INDEX—1929-30=100)

The recent progress in industrial activity in the United States is graphically illustrated above, figures being based on The Associated Press index. The current level (right) is 16.1 per cent above the average for 1935, but is 27.7 per cent below the 1929 peak (left). Current activity has recovered all ground lost in the first two months of the year and is 76.6 per cent higher than at the low point of the depression.

Overcoming the lag in employment presents a major problem. While factory employment shows considerable recovery, idleness in many lines connected with building and construction, and in the service industries—which include everything from manicuring to chimney sweeping—remains of huge proportions.

But business analysts see hope because residential building is running nearly triple the levels of 1933, although still only around a quarter of 1929. Optimists expect the service industries to boom with the coming of broader recovery.

Economic Controversy
The route forward from here is none the less befogged in mists of economic and political controversy. Some advocate a shorter work week to combat growing use of labor saving machinery. Others see the growing government debt as undermining confidence and retarding business enterprises.

Yet none gainsays the progress already made, and hopes are high that the nation may be moving forward into a new era of good times in which prosperity will be better balanced and of a more abiding nature than that of 1929. Few attempt to predict how the transition will come. The post-war depression of the early 1920's ended with a building boom and the rapid growth of the automobile industry. Earlier depressions ended with railway building booms opening up new territory.

IN COUNTYState Chamber Roads
Committee Having Tour Thursday

A two-day tour of Orange, San Diego, Imperial, Riverside and San Bernardino counties for the purpose of inspection of construction and improvement projects on state highways, will be started by the state highway committee of the California chamber of commerce Thursday.

An invitation to other chambers and civic groups interested in highway work to attend the inspection tour was offered by the committee today. The ultimate purpose of the trip is coordination of improvements in various counties, and the elimination of gaps in the state highway system.

While in this county the group will inspect three major projects, including the Manchester boulevard from the Orange county line to its intersection at Anaheim with Highway 101, the Main street to Newport Beach highway, and the Laguna canyon road from Irvine to the coast.

The projects for inspection were selected from recommendations submitted by county highway committees on projects.

IT PAYS TO

It pays to be expected. Resort and hotel people want to have just the rooms waiting for you that you'll most enjoy. Telephoning ahead is so easy. So satisfactory, too, for it gives you a chance to talk accommodations over—to verify arrangements.

Telephone ahead—and, while you're away this summer, telephone homeward frequently. That extends the fun and relieves anxiety.

STOCKS CALM AGAIN; MANY SHOW GAIN

Substantial Upturn Is Attributed Partly to Short Coverings

By VICTOR EUBANK

NEW YORK, May 5. (AP)—Quiet by persistent buying came into the stock market today and lifted prices fractions to 3 or more points in virtually all categories.

The substantial upturn, in relatively dull dealings, was attributed partly to short covering based on the apparently improved technical position of the list.

Outstanding gainers included U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Allied Chemical, J. I. Case, Columbian Carbon, Douglas Aircraft, Westinghouse, Kennecott, Anaconda, Standard Oil of New Jersey, U. S. Rubber, Goodyear, American Telephone, Western Union, Consolidated Edison, Santa Fe, Union Pacific, N. Y. Central and Pennsylvania.

Bonds took their cue from stocks and moved ahead substantially. Commodities were mixed.

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, May 5. (AP)—Industrial specialties led a wide recovery in today's stock market with general gains ranging from fractions to 3 points or more.

The upturn, while comparatively dull, was attributed partly to short covering based on technical factors involved in the sharp decline of the past 3 days. The close was firm. Transfers were around 1,300,000 shares.

DECIDUOUS CROP REDUCED BY FROST, SAYS SKILES

Probable reduction in the deciduous fruit crop, fewer oranges remaining to be shipped from Florida and a shorter crop of Valencia oranges in Northern California were anticipated today in a statement by Clarence Skiles, manager of the Orange County Fruit exchange. Mr. Skiles recently returned from visiting eastern markets, and observed conditions in different parts of the country.

Mr. Skiles' report said low temperatures without a doubt have reduced the deciduous crop. Peaches, apricots and cherries in Georgia have suffered from a cold snap while the strawberry crop in Arkansas and Tennessee have suffered heavy loss, Mr. Skiles said.

It also is reported that deciduous fruit in Central and Northern California and the Pacific Northwest suffered some damage from low temperatures last March. Mr. Skiles said it is safe to predict the deciduous crop from all sources will be slightly less than last year.

Mr. Skiles said it is estimated 1450 cars of fruit remained to be shipped in Florida as of May 4, compared to 3249 cars on the same date last year.

Altogether there are approximately 2400 cars of navel oranges to be shipped as of May 4, compared with actual shipments of 472 cars as of that date last year.

The Northern California Valencia orange crop is about 50 per cent of last year's. The tree crop estimate for Southern California Valencia for 1936 stands at about 50,000 carloads, compared to 49,981 shipped last year.

Tells State Shipments

April export shipments of Valencia through the Orange County Fruit exchange totaled 64 cars, compared to 260 last year. Lemon shipments were 61 cars in April. The total California Fruit Growers exchange storage as of May 1 shows an increase of 622 cars over the storage on April 15, but is below the storage at this time in three of the last five years and 4000 cars less than the record of 4000 cars in storage at this time last year.

Mr. Skiles said there is a general feeling in most markets that business conditions are slightly better than last year, but irregular trends are expected in the next year. The relief fund, he said, is as great as last year. He said it should be acknowledged at least part of the business improvement is artificial on account of the many government projects now under way.

White Man's Civilization

ADDIS ABABA, the mighty has fallen. Haile Selassie, the Conquering Lion of Judah, has found his master in the hard-hitting iron man of Italy, whose war machine has rolled its way over a helpless people into the Ethiopian capital as ruthlessly as the famed car of juggernaut moved, crushing its victims beneath it.

Mussolini now rules Ethiopia, due to his strange genius which can calmly overlook the suffering his ambition causes—and also thanks to America.

For many of the sinews of Mussolini's brazen war of conquest have been furnished by American manufacturers; American raw materials, fabricated and refined into what Mussolini needed to drive his troops on and on to victory.

When the war opened, there was great talk that the rains of Ethiopia might defeat Il Duce's aims of empire. The past year has shown that science in warfare has conquered nature. Modern medical knowledge has been able to stop the ravages of disease; modern means of transportation have enabled generals to force their armies over mountain passes thought impregnable by troops.

Tanks, poison gas, airplane bombs, all the modern means of adding to the frightfulness of war were utilized with complete success on a horde of ignorant natives, who found that courage and a determination to die in defense of liberty and their homes and families cannot compete against a modern man of mars.

You'll see lots of pictures of Mussolini, the conquering hero, from now on. But you won't see many photographs of the ill and wounded soldiers, whose health is shattered forever.

You won't see the faces of mothers and wives who have lost those they loved, forever.

The road to Addis Ababa is a road of glory for Mussolini, but it is a road paved with shattered hopes and lives. Mussolini can rule all Ethiopia, but he cannot soothe the suffering in one mother's heart, be she Italian or Ethiopian.

The Conquering Lion of Judah, driven from his lair and from now until capture or death a fugitive king without a kingdom, an exile in Palestine, can well think with bitterness of what civilization has brought him and his people.

The League of Nations, which impotently gnawed its nails and did nothing, can well realize what a pitiable, futile joke it is, where the mouthings of impotent diplomats receive the jeers of the war makers.

And those Americans, who, despite the condemnation of our nation, furnished the oil, gasoline and other supplies which enabled Mussolini to carry his invasion to its successful conclusion, can well swell their chests and boast, "We did our part!"

It is now rumored that certain Italian regiments subsist entirely on garlic—and that Haile Selassie left Ethiopia merely for a breathing spell.

Living on the Future

THE federal government is spending itself blue in the face. In the past 10 months, according to yesterday's treasury department report, it has run through more than 6,000 million dollars of the people's money. This is an average of better than $46 for every man, woman and child in this broad land.

While the government was scattering this 6,000 million dollars, it took in less than 3,360 million dollars, which means that it went into the hole approximately 2,640 million dollars.

Just how long would you last, we pause to ask, if you made $3,360 a year and spent $6,000? The same principle is involved, whether you or Uncle Sam spends the money.

Uncle Sam is living on borrowed cash. That 2,640 million dollars deficit for the first 10 months of this year was borrowed from the future. And it will have to be paid back in the future—paid back by you, your children, and your grandchildren.

Look at your watch. If it isn't 7 p. m., there may still be time to scamper out and vote in the presidential primary.

Danger Season at Beaches

LIFE GUARDS pulled six drowning people out of rip-tides at Huntington Beach last week-end. Lucky people. But for the guards, they might have lost their lives.

There will be many news items this summer about ocean rescues, as the great hot weather exodus to the beaches is about to start, with men and women dotting the sands, and children playing in the surf.

But there will also be stories about drownings. Don't get involved in one of these tragic accidents. Learn how to swim before you go into the ocean. And find out what rip tides are and keep away from them—no matter how good a swimmer you are.

Protect Yourself

ONE sure way to keep from becoming a traffic casualty is to stay off the highways. Of course, you can't do this and still carry on life in the modern way, but you often can stay off major arteries during certain hours and times when accidents are at their peak. So we offer as another maxim in The Journal's safety campaign—

Rule No. 5—USE THE ROADS AS LITTLE AS POSSIBLE DURING THE CROWDED HOURS OF THE DAY AND ON HOLIDAYS.

Remember—the other driver and the law can't protect you—you must PROTECT YOURSELF!

Whimsies of O. O. McIntyre

The American colony, representing the richest phase of Parisian life, continues to be depleted. Not a handful remains. Scarcely any of the social and lunch-club members carry The Paris Herald's society chatter deals mostly with South American.

What has happened to Paris so far as Americans are concerned has happened to Monte Carlo, Le Touquet and the entire sweep of the French Riviera. And the shops, restaurants and hotels that depended so largely upon patronage from the states have had to close or winnow a different clientele.

In the same fashion the American art colony in the Montparnasse area has also evaporated. The only fixtures are the American newspaper correspondents and, of course, that lively old time sports chronicler, the incredible Sparrow Robertson.

Paris, with its usual optimistic effervescence, shrugs lightly and declares it's only the depression. Boom times and Paris will be known say Americans are he to other delightful places and it will take Paris, the hussy, years to recapture the old fervor.

However, Anna Gould and her withered Prince still cling to the marbled pink palace on the edge of the Bois. He totters about the garden in a shoulder cape and she knits. They have never been a part of the American colony, but rather truckled to the Royalist crowd. Prince de Sagan was once one of the flaming young bloods of the boulevards. He liked to wine and dine the stage beauties and was the first Parisian dandy to encircle a huge diamond finger ring around a four-in-hand.

Diamonds for men, I am told, were in their highest upswing during the Ed. Stouffer and John F. Fiske era. Then a gentleman could sport a fair sized sparkler without being classed a vulgarizer. There was a period, too, when it seemed all right for Nat Goodwin, Owen Wister and Bob Davis to wear diamonds. Then the corner saloon keeper made it his badge of opulence and gamblers and crooks copied them.

One of the finest homes in the Paris Bois is owned by Pierre Cartier, the New York jeweler. But there's a legend he stays at a hotel on his visits to Paris now. As the story goes, he returned there after several years absence, looking forward to being home again. His butler, after greeting him, inquired how long he was to remain. His valet, while dressing, asked him the same thing, and so did several other servants. It was not the sort of welcome he expected, and somehow he completely lost a taste for what had long been a pleasant home.

Then there was the "mourning suite" at the old Waldorf, consisting of six rooms with three baths. In it passed away the beloved wife of a retired manufacturer. The couple had lived there since the hotel opened, but when she was gone he could no longer linger in the environment. But until the hotel was torn down he maintained the apartment and nothing was changed. Each year at the anniversary of her death and at the hour she expired he went there and sat by the bedside for a brief spell, just as he did when he lost her. Keeping rendezvous with a sacred memory!

Bill Hamilton has become one of New York's perennial birds of passage and always on the wing. A retired banker in his 40's, his converted stable home in East Nineteenth street has long been a rendezvous for people of the stage and screen and the literati. He has acquired a so-called knack of entertaining by inviting people worth while and then letting them severely alone. This formula always clicks. While his base is New York, he circulates as familiarly in Paris and London and holds a state position in Luxembourg, where he is considered the most popular of all Americans.

A Ring Lardner enthusiast in Enid, Okla., sends me a copy of a lyrical autograph the late author wrote in one of his early books. It reads: All my life I want to roam—Around God's country Oklahoma. Settling down at last in Enid. Am I spoofing? No! I mean it. (Copyright, 1936)

The Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON, May 5.—Senator Arthur Vandenberg insists that he is not a candidate for the Republican nomination. His close friends say his eyes are fixed on 1940.

Friends who are not so close tell the story of Senator McNary of Oregon meeting Senator Jim C. McHugh of Michigan in the Republican cloak room last winter and remarking: "Jim, Vandenberg tells me he is not in the nomination race."

"Humph," they say Cousins replied, "no one else is either." But despite these denials and disparagements, Vandenberg is a very definite and important factor in the G. O. P. scramble. He is dark horse No. 1.

Should the onrushing Landon steam-roller slip a cog in the home-stretch should Borah and Knox not enough rocks in its path, then the big pouter-pigeon-shaped editor from Michigan is the first on the list as compromise candidate.

SHITEN And no one knows this better than Vandenberg. Which explains why, despite his persistent denials, Arthur is displaying all the symptoms of that most contagious of all political diseases, Presidentialitis.

In three most virulent symptoms in Vandenberg's case are:
1. Sudden and dauntless bravery in attacking the New Deal.
2. Extreme cautiousness in sticking to the middle of the road in everything except the New Deal.
3. Butting up all the other Republican nominees.

No other candidate in the field is on such good terms with all the rest, and Vandenberg is determined to remain so. Borah and Hoover, who don't like each other, both like him. Knox was associated with him in the newspaper game. Landon doesn't know him, but at least has nothing against him. In fact, Vandenberg is the one man who, in a dramatic deadlock, they can all turn to.

PRO-NEW DEAL The present role of ardent enemy of the administration is a new one for Arthur. There was a day when he spoke sweetly and gently about Mr. Roosevelt and those around him. So much so, in fact, that G. O. P. die-hards threw up their hands in disgust.

That was during the dark days of 1934, when Arthur was up for re-election, and when few could speak ill of the New Deal in Michigan and live politically to tell the story.

The campaign was one of the hottest in Michigan history, with the senator conducting himself as more of a gentleman than most candidates have found advisable. In the end, he squeaked through to victory chiefly because of Mr. Roosevelt—though Mr. Roosevelt certainly didn't mean to help him squeak.

What Roosevelt did was to renew the NRA automobile code just three days before election. One of the most reactionary of all Blue Eagle creations, its renewal aroused anti-New Deal bitterness among Michigan's great group of automobile workers.

In retaliation against Roosevelt, thousands of them stayed away from the polls. This saved Vandenberg.

On election morning he told friends that he was licked. That night, as he sat at home, gloom spread over the household. There was no doubt in their minds that the senator was defeated. Then, at 10 p. m., the tide turned. When the votes were counted,

DOANE BACKTRACKS

To the Editor: Now that the penitentiary location on the Mesa has been blown up, let us take up a few interesting bits of national Townsend news, that no doubt, will be interesting to your many readers. It took quite a bit of agitation and furore of the good citizens of Orange county to show a small minority that big real estate commissions and state liquidation of a big bank's holdings, was secondary as to a residential preservation. But it has been accomplished, and the big pen must hunt quarters in our back alleys or worthless hill country, where it properly belongs. We should draw a sigh of relief that the most beautiful residential district in the world is in Orange county and southern California.

Time marches on, and so does the Townsend Plan. The congressional investigating committee finished their work at Los Angeles, and took airplanes to Washington, after paying out of the taxpayers' pockets for the $18 per day for hotel and other expenses that ran much higher. That much is over with. Following the investigating committee a caravan of Townsendites arrange to start immediately for the national capital, taking with them all the papers, documents, books, and millions of petitions signed by over ten million people demanding of the congress that the Townsend Plan be adopted into a national law and that Uncle Sam start at once in paying the $200 per month pensions. It appears, however, that a large majority of the congressmen are opposed to enacting the law that the citizens desire and demand, but as servants of the people assume the dictatorial role in telling the American voters what they should have—like the Smith Gag bill H. R. 11663, and what they should not have—the McGroarty bill H. R. 7154, the Townsend Plan.

The money power seems to be pretty strongly entrenched in our legislative halls, and they are going to do all they can to hold and direct the actions of the lawmakers. The redeeming feature of the whole matter lies in the fact that the Townsend followers are the American citizens who have been "washed out" during the depression, while they are financially ill they have the numbers when it comes to the ballot box. If you stop to think about it the ballot box is about the only semblance of liberty left to the unfortunate following of the Townsend Plan. As a result, the money power will resort to anything on earth to divide the voters, and thereby permit the money power to remain in the saddle.

Contrast this spirit of humanitarianism, of people who have not gone money-wild, with the following quotations of one of our greatest economists, Dr. Doane. A man who has a wonderful background, is a recognized authority on problems of economy, and who has published many books upon the subject. Before the senate finance committee on Feb. 20, 1935, in speaking on the Townsend Plan he said: "The estimated increase in retail price of goods, based on experience of other nations, would be 10 per cent. within the volume of trade expectancy could increase 25 per cent monthly." Now comes Dr. Doane before the C. Jasper Bell investigating committee, April 21, 1936 and says: "We can tell the American housewife that if the Townsend Plan were introduced her bread would cost her nearer 30 cents a loaf than the present price of 10 cents." There you have Dr. Doane, the noted economist telling you one thing in Feb., 1935, and an opposite thing in April, 1936. Judge for yourself what changed his mind.—J. H. Walsh, Costa Mesa, Calif.

One of the most attractive subjects for study in the second section of the Household Economics club was that discussed and demonstrated yesterday at the home of Mrs. H. L. Deimling on Chestnut avenue. Seasonal desserts was the topic. The committee in charge included the hostess and Mrs. Theo Lacy, jr., Miss Iva Wells and Mrs. Carl Scott.

Among those who left on the Pacific Electric today for Los Angeles were James Willis Rice, Joseph P. Smith and Ira Chandler.

F. P. Nicky, T. D. Collins, C. S. Kendall and John McFadden will go to Los Angeles this evening to attend a special meeting and banquet of the Southern California Association of Hardware Men, to be held at the Hollenbeck.

The excursion to Mr. Lowe under the auspices of the Merchants and Manufacturers' association will be run next Wednesday, May 10. The excursion, however, will not be limited to members of the association.

Building permits in Santa Ana for April amounted to $42,950. This brings the total for the year up to $148,027. That is a very good showing for a city the size of Santa Ana and suggests a total for the year of $400,000, if not more.

The chamber of commerce last night took in seven new members. Those who were elected to membership were A. B. Gardner, W. A. Zimmerman, James Sleeper, Col. Thomas Hill, Dr. Menges, W. L. Grubb and W. D. Duane.

One Man's Opinion

By Duncan Ellsworth Clark

EDITOR'S NOTE—Here is an informative, analytical daily feature on current topics. The opinions expressed in this column are not necessarily the same as those held by The Journal.

Our Congressional Servants Become Rowdy Masters

A MEMBER of congress is caught speeding 70 miles an hour in a restricted zone in Washington, D. C. He resists arrest and shouts about his congressional immunity. Behind the bars, he complains that his constituents are being deprived of representation in the house. This same Marion Zioncheck, from Seattle, causes many a rumble in congress, bawling around like the spoiled nuisance he is. Other legislators mix in unseemly brawls, flout flourish and violent language breaks out.

If the American people can find no better lawmakers than such raw specimens they deserve all the bad government they get. The least we may expect of any man is that he observe the decencies of orderly life. No matter how brilliant he may be, if a man hasn't sense enough to behave himself, he is useless or worse. Savage tempers and rotten manners should be penalized by law as well as other sorts of misdemeanors. Sturdy colonists in the good old days had ducking-stools and pillories for such actions.

Maybe, we should require our congressmen to meet certain qualification tests. The constitution mentions only three—age, 25; citizenship, seven years; resident of his district. Nothing as to his fitness, his views on life, his patriotism, his learning, his sense of decency. Nothing counts but his ability to round up the votes, stay with his party, do as he is told, jump when the whip cracks and vote straight. Democracy "muddies" through" but usually at much unnecessary cost and delay.

Trouble comes when public officials forget that they are servants, and assume the air of masters. That's what happens when we treat them as pampered children, cooing them along in palace cars, king's music, and costly. Mighty poor returns from the luxurious chambers in Washington. Even a valuable, hard-working man, taken from his native village and permitted to loiter around in air-conditioned rooms at the capitol, soon becomes good for nothing. He may get a political wise. But in that case he is too wise to further serve the public.

Finally, nothing counts but character. And character must have those qualities of industry, service, independence, decency and high resolve. Until legislators are of such caliber we look in vain for progress and orderly development.

Skinny Skribbles

Around and About Town
With C. F. SKIRVIN

Business as usual would hardly be the proper slogan for today. The courthouse, banks, title companies, and a few other places closed for the day on account of the presidential primary election, but if you got in trouble you could have your case taken care of by the police or some other authorized authority. Election days put a cramp in business, but what was delayed today will be recovered tomorrow. The real slow-down is felt by the reporters, as the major part of their news comes from public offices. By the way, have you voted?

That fellow who left a note on my typewriter about there being some old fashioned navy bean soup at a certain cafe neglected to invite me to lunch. I can find a lot of things to eat. That isn't my trouble. However, I've given him credit for a good intention.

Ralph Mosher, of Santa Ana, is a patient at the Sawtelle Soldiers hospital, making a valiant fight to defeat a physical affliction. He has been suffering for several weeks. His friends all over Orange county will hope for his recovery. Ralph was distributor for General Petroleum company. He is a heavy holder of Santa Ana business property, owns an orange ranch near Capistrano, prominent in a local service club, and a useful citizen. Naturally there is an anxiety among his friends, who will continue their interest and concern, and hope for his recovery.

A young fellow in New York City shot and killed his cousin because he called him "skinny." If I started out to shoot everyone in Santa Ana who called me "skinny" there wouldn't be anyone left to take the census.

How can I get my news when I call on Earl Abbey and he is in Fullerton, Captain Meehan and he is on the highway, and Charley Mitchell and Jess Elliott and they are somewhere. I've always had better success getting news out of conversation. Couple of the patrol boys thought I might at least pick up a piece of poetry from Meehan if he was in his office. He was not in the office so I did not pick it.

Temporary blockade on Main between Sixth and Fifth. Car backing out from the curb gets smacked by a truck. Damage probably couple of dollars, delay to traffic trivial, but the accident collected quite an audience. After an exchange of license numbers, cars began to move again. This isn't news because it happens every day.

Chief of Police Floyd Howard was busily engaged yesterday afternoon arranging his police force in front of the city hall so that Photographer Ed Cochems could get them properly registered on his picture machine. I notice where Bud Hurd and Brick Grouard, like old Ben Adick, led all the rest, but that was because they started with the tall ones, and finally got down to my size, but I'm not going to mention any names. It was a nice double line-up of as fine a bunch of cops as I've ever met. If Ed fails to do that group justice I'll take the next picture.

Times have changed but the "kid" hasn't. Friend tells me he answered the doorbell May day. There was a nice little bunch of flowers lying on the porch. When he reached down to pick it up the darn thing started to leave and then the "kid" with the other end of the string in his hand got a good laugh, and took the flowers to another neighbor's porch. This amusement continued for some time. Oh, well, there's no use to get sore about it. You did the same thing years ago.

You have a right to vote for 44 presidential electors. If you skip one on the uninstructed delegation and go over and vote for Nels Edwards on the Landon ticket, you can jump right back to the uninstructed ticket and vote for R. Y. Williams, and then Orange county might get two delegates to the national convention—and then again it might not. No matter what you do, vote, and you have until 7 o'clock this evening to get into the voting booth, and that's where you belong if you are interested in your government.

Frequent sales of valencia orange groves in Orange county have been announced during the past few months. That the new ownership in most cases have gone to experienced orange men is a significant feature of the transaction. Men with experience who enlarge their holdings would not do so unless they were convinced the industry was substantial, and the returns satisfactory. At one time Orange county valencia groves sold as high as $6000 per acre, many of them at $5000. It may be that that figure will not return, but it must be recognized that there is a steadily increasing value per acre, and that thousands of acres are not for sale at any price.
